

Final Paper Submission

After acceptance of their paper for oral presentation, poster, or data workshop, authors are requested to provide a final proceedings paper addressing the comments of the reviewers (comments are available on the RADOCS web site). We request that you provide a version of your final paper in order for the RADECS Conference Proceedings to reflect the full content of the Conference.

The format of the final paper is the standard IEEE TNS format, up to 8 pages. Guidelines for preparing the paper are provided here: link to template.

Authors shall post their final papers before October 9, 2020, midnight (Paris time) on the RADOCS web site. Papers will be published in the dedicated Conference proceedings that will be made available electronically to all conference attendees after the conference. They will also be available on IEEE Xplore. Please note that authors are also required to complete an \(link to\) IEEE copyright form. This form must be uploaded with your final paper.

If you wish to submit your final paper to the RADECS 2020 issue of IEEE TNS, you will need to submit it directly to IEEE TNS. Instructions for the IEEE TNS submission are provided separately.